Marijuana Harvest: How To Maximize Quality And Yield In Your Cannabis Garden

Synopsis

Marijuana Harvest is the first book devoted entirely to cannabis harvesting. In it, Ed Rosenthal and David Downs explain how to ensure the perfect harvest—everything from recognizing when it's time to pick, to storage techniques to keep your buds fresh. Ed Rosenthal literally wrote the book on marijuana cultivation with his best-selling Marijuana Grower's Handbook. Marijuana Harvest is the most important cultivation tool of the season. Readers will learn about: . Flushing: How and when to flush. . Ripening: The best time to pick. . Manicuring and Processing: Speed it up with new tools for both hand and machine trimming . . Drying and Curing: How to avoid mildew and mold contamination.. . Storing: Keeping your buds fresh and potent.. Today, more Americans than ever before have the ability to grow and cultivate marijuana for medical and personal use. Marijuana Harvest teaches cultivators large and small, how to avoid making costly mistakes, identify problems

Customer Reviews

"Mr. Rosenthal is the pothead's answer to Ann Landers, Judge Judy, Martha Stewart, and the Burpee Garden Wizard all in one." #151; The New York Times "Ed Rosenthal holds the distinction of turning more people on to pot than Cheech and Chong." #151; Tommy Chong "It's not easy being the point guard for the marijuana cultivation movement. Ed Rosenthal has been playing the position. . . . Around the office, we reverently refer to him as the 'guru of ganja.'" #151; Steven Hager, editor in chief of High Times

Ed Rosenthal is the world's leading expert on the cultivation of marijuana. In his more than 40 years as the "guru of ganja," he has written and edited more than a dozen books about marijuana cultivation and social policy that cumulatively have sold over two million copies. His "Ask Ed" marijuana advice column ran in High Times for several decades and still appears internationally. Beyond the garden, Rosenthal views marijuana law as a crucial social issue and has been active in promoting and developing policies of civil regulation. He lives in Oakland, CA. David Downs is an award-winning journalist covering arts, technology, and criminal justice for publications including WIRED, Rolling Stone, The Onion, and The New York Times. Downs was a fellow at Northwestern University's Academy for Alternative Journalism in 2004, and he earned a degree in English literature from University of California at Santa Barbara in 2002. He has received and shared numerous professional honors, including a 2010 Knight-Batten Award for Innovations in Journalism. He produces and hosts the podcast The Hash. He lives in San Francisco with his wife and son.

I'm glad I ordered this book. I'm not ready to cut yet but it has me thinking about the steps needed to dry and cure buds successfully. There are also pre-harvest tips. I'm starting to use the flushing ones now. The chapters on trimming equipment show what a wide choice there is with all the new machines that are available. In some sections the book provides more technical information than I need. There are also beautiful photos.

This is a recommended reference for getting the most out of your crop when it comes to potency. Harvesting at the optimal time is something all growers need to know. A tremendous amount of information included with some great reference images as well. Thank you David Downs and Ed Rosenthal for always thinking of DoobieDuck when it comes to natural cannabis photography for your publications.
 Marijuana Harvest: How to Maximize Quality and Yield in Your Cannabis Garden

I just received the book and already started reading it . I'm ready to learn Mr. Ed Rosenthal way. I also can't wait to smoke my own crop learning from the man Mr. Ed Rosenthal .

Learned to grow in the late 80s w/ Ed's original growers guide. This book is next to worthless though. No new or good info here. Seems like he wrote the book to sell his "sponsors" products. Dont waste youre money because you wont learn anything new here! Sad really.

A nail in the stock for some extra Iron Ed! What?
