My 2 1/2 year old twins love the Mouse books and we ordered this one to add to their collection. They always ask for these books before bedtime. I really like the board books because they are very sturdy and so far seem to withstand the toddler years. It's Pumpkin Day, Mouse! is a short, simple story about Mouse and his friends painting faces on pumpkins. It has one or two sentences on each page and makes it great for short attention spans. The book teaches about different types of faces: happy, sad, silly, etc. My kids love these books so I'm a happy Mommy! I highly recommend this, and the other Mouse books, to anyone with young children.

Cute, simple story about Mouse and his seven pumpkins. Each one is painted with a different face, and Dog makes a surprise visit! My three year old daughter loves the Mouse stories, and this book is no exception. She likes to count the pumpkins, then makes each face along with me as we read the story. A short, simple book that's a fun and easy way to celebrate Halloween with your little one. Also makes a great book to add to a Boo Basket for friends!

My kids LOVE this book (ages 1.5 and 3.) I was drawn to it when I saw that it helps teach some "emotions" (happy, sad, silly, etc.) It's also a fairly neutral book, not even mentioning Halloween itself, which I like since we're not "big" on Halloween. Simple, cute, quality-made book that my kids have me read over and over.

My 20 month old is obsessed with the If you Give a Mouse books, so we were excited to try another by the same author. I was somewhat disappointed that it was not in the same style as the other books, but it is still a good read. The colors are vibrant and it is a great way to teach toddlers about emotions

My 2 year old loved this book. It was a good introduction to Jack O'Lanterns, and after reading it a few times, she would identify any Jack O' Lantern we saw as sad, friendly, etc. If she was a particularly scary looking one, she'd squeal "EEK! What is that!" like from the book. She was obviously too young to carve her own pumpkin, so we let her paint a pie pumpkin like Mouse does in the book. It was a great connection to the book and a great way to get her involved in Halloween!

My 2 year-old LOVES this book! We practiced making different feelings faces whenever we read it, which she thought was HYSTERICAL. She can now make - and recognize - all of the faces introduced... happy, silly, surprised, angry. She could not be any cuter making her faces and I am thrilled that she was able to learn something so important from this book!

My 19 month old loves all the mouse books. I wish they would make more in board book form.
