MARGARET WISE BROWN (1910-1952), best known as the author of Goodnight Moon, wrote countless children's books inspired by her belief that the very young were fascinated by the simple pleasures of the world around them. Among her many bestselling Golden titles are Mister Dog, The Color Kittens, The Golden Egg Book, Seven Little Postmen, The Friendly Book, and The Sailor Dog. GARTH WILLIAMS (1912-1996) is known for his realistic yet highly expressive animal characters. His unique style has brought to life some of the best-loved children's books of the 20th century, including E. B. White's Charlotte's Web and Stuart Little, and the Little House books by Laura Ingalls Wilder. He illustrated many timeless Golden Books, among them Baby Farm Animals, Mister Dog, The Friendly Book, The Sailor Dog, The Giant Golden Book of Elves and Fairies, and The Kitten Who Thought He Was a Mouse.

"Spring, spring, spring," sang the frog, from a pond by fresh green grasses and flowers. "Spring," said the groundhog, his arms raised in celebration. So begins this lovely book, telling how a small brown bunny goes down the road and down the road one day when the butterflies are swaying on stalks and a flora botanica of the brightly colored small flowers are unfolding in the warm sunlight. The bunny meets three baby robins still wearing bits of their blue shells, a somewhat inhospitable ground-hog, and the frog in his bog. In none of their homes can this sweet-faced bunny find his home. UNTIL.....The Little Golden Book is a poem, written like a small song by Margaret Wise Brown and illustrated by Garth Williams with the precision and color of the millefleurs tapestries of the Middle Ages. It is loving, friendly, unfussy, and perfect, a beloved book since 1956---reprinted fresh and sparkling new as children, parents, and grandparents remember it. The book boards are sturdy, heavy cardboard, the pages are strong enough for years of turning by small hands, and the price is unbelievably low. I have just purchased five copies as Easter-spring greetings for family & friends and yes, one for myself. No reservations or reader alerts. "Home for a Bunny" is a heritage gift at a peeps price.

I used to read this to my 2 sons when they were young. They loved it so much that they memorized it & I would pause to let them finish a sentence. They're both grown with families of their own now so I bought a copy for each of them. Inside the front covers, I wrote a little note that I hope they enjoy reading it to their kids as much as I enjoyed reading it to them. Cute story, nice pics, wonderful memories. Enjoy!

I have loved this book for a long time. I read it many times to my own girls. It was the perfect book to purchase for my niece for Christmas. The story is so cute about a bunny finding the right home and companion. Along the way the bunny encounters other animals who live in homes that would not be suitable for him. It is written so well, with repetition and rhymes. The illustrations are great, with many recognizable spring wildflowers including tillium and trout lily.

Wonderful bunny book to read for Easter or anytime. Theme of companionship. Clever, contagious rhyme from classic M.W. Brown and lovely illustrations from Garth Williams.

Another sweet, touching story by Margaret Wise Brown! I bought this along with The Golden Egg Book...Love them both! Perfect for any child.

A very cute book with eye catching illustrations. A cute book for Spring and Easter! Durable for little hands.

HOME FOR A BUNNY (BRGranddaughter loves it, the Board Book is easier for her to handle than the Hardcover.

Love story and illustrations. Great addition to my preschool library!
